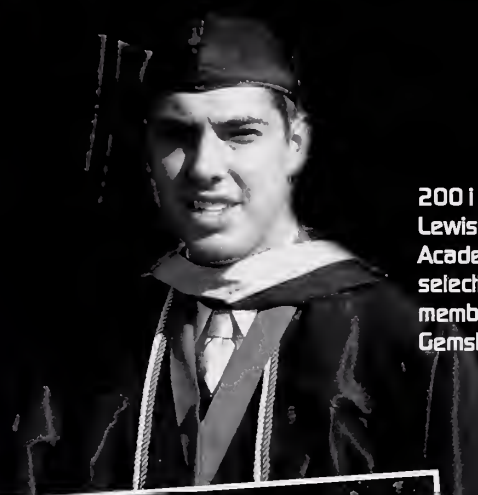
Maryland jumps from No. 4 in Soccer America rankings

The Maryland men's team is ranked No. 1 by Soccer America for the first time in its history.

The Terrapins (3-1) have won three straight games and beat Virginia, 1-0, on Sunday to record their first home victory over the Cavaliers since 1977. After losing to defending national champion Indiana to open its season, Maryland has outscored Butler, Marshall and Virginia by a combined 10-2 to jump from the No. 4 position and take over the top ranking from UCLA, which lost to Florida International on Friday.

The Terrapins are ranked No. 5 by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America, moving up three spots from a week ago. Creighton, the NSCAA's top-ranked team, is No. 7 in the Soccer America poll.

The Maryland men's soccer team spent two weeks in 1999 as the No. 1 team in the country according to Soccer America. It was the first time in program history that the Terps earned the magazine's top slot.



2001 graduate Christian Lewis was a three-time GTE Academic All-District selection and was a member of Maryland's Gemstone Honors Program.

Four Terps from last year's team were recognized for being members of the Terrapin Honor Roll during the 2000-01 school year. Tyler Pharr, Kevin Schmidt, Mike Shebuski and Christian Lewis were all recognized at a Maryland basketball game last fall.

Maryland has a strong alumni base built up over many years. More than 50 players participated in the 2001 Alumni Game at Ludwig Field.

The Terps play in the fourth-largest media market in the nation. Maryland is regularly featured by outlets in Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

2001 Season Outlook

If it weren't for bad luck, the 2000 Terrapins might have had none at all. When the season began, Maryland head coach Sasho Cirovski had eight starters returning on his 20-man roster. Four games into the season, Cirovski was staring down the barrel of the most devastating injury situation he had ever faced.

Sophomore starter Sumed Ibrahim would never hit the field in 2000 after suffering a stress fracture in his fifth metatarsal bone.

Neither would fellow Ghana-native Siba Mohammed, due to a nagging knee injury.

Classmate Scott Buete would suffer a break in his fifth metatarsal bone against Indiana in the Maryland/FILA Classic, which sidelined the starter for the year.

Prior to the UMBC game, starting striker A.J. Herrera would be sidelined with the same ailment as Buete.

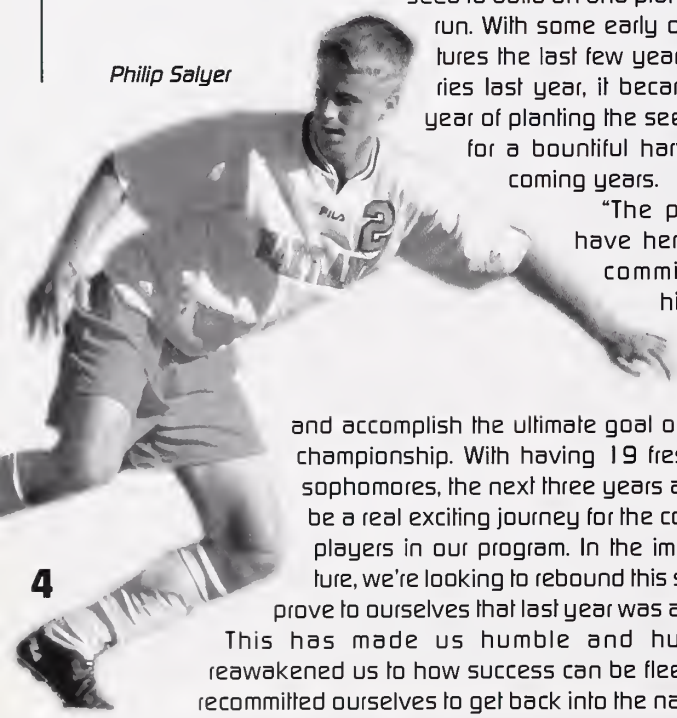
Add season-ending injuries to Kevin Schmidt (toe) and Matt Roberts (knee), and Cirovski spent the remainder of the year hoping that no one else would go down. After seven season-ending injuries, former Terp Jason Sardis opted to dust off his cleats for his final year of eligibility, giving Maryland only three substitutes for the remainder of the year.

Unbelievably, the Terps gutted out a 10-9 record. Defying all odds, Maryland narrowly missed the NCAA tournament.

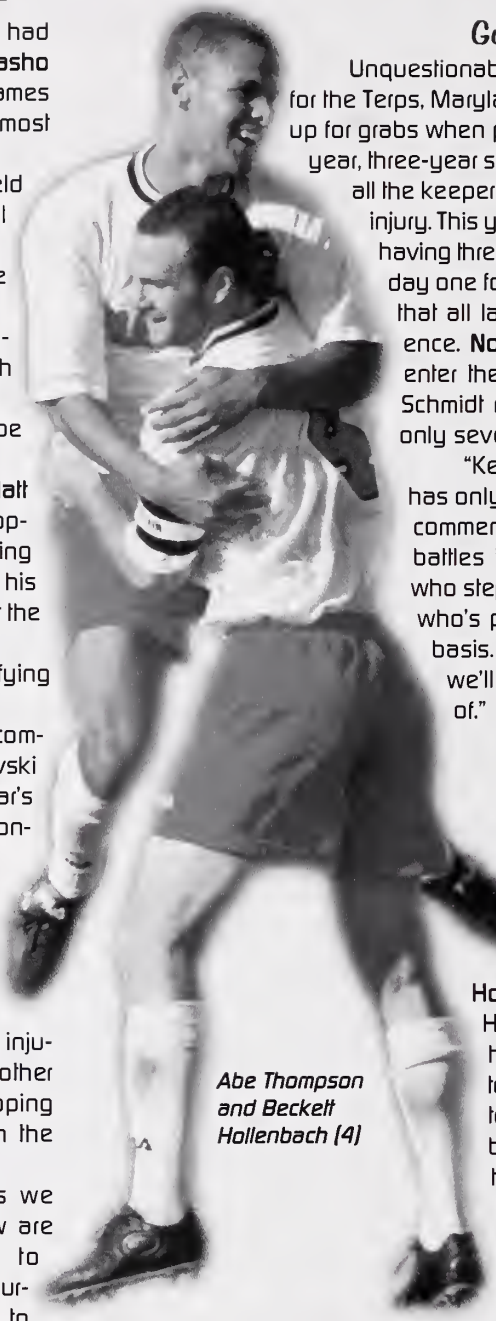
After the incredible journey of last year, the Terps are coming back stronger mentally and physically in 2001. For Cirovski and the team, they have chosen to take lessons from last year's strife and move further toward their goal of a national championship run this season.

"I look at this as the second stage of my career at Maryland," says Cirovski, who is entering his ninth year with the Terrapins. "The first year (1993) was a year of planting the seed to build on and plan for a run. With some early departures the last few years and injuries last year, it became another year of planting the seeds, hoping for a bountiful harvest in the coming years.

"The players we have here now are committed to higher pursuits to put us on the map and accomplish the ultimate goal of a national championship. With having 19 freshmen and sophomores, the next three years are going to be a real exciting journey for the coaches and players in our program. In the immediate future, we're looking to rebound this season and prove to ourselves that last year was an anomaly. This has made us humble and hungry and reawakened us to how success can be fleeting. We've recommitted ourselves to get back into the nation's elite."



Philip Salyer



Abe Thompson and Beckett Hollenbach (4)

Goalkeeper

Unquestionably one of the keys this year for the Terps, Maryland's goalkeeper spot will be up for grabs when preseason camp begins. Last year, three-year starter Christian Lewis handled all the keeper duties due to Kevin Schmidt's injury. This year, Maryland will benefit from having three goalkeepers competing from day one for the position, despite the fact that all lack extensive college experience. Noah Palmer and Craig Salvati enter their first college seasons, with Schmidt returning as the veteran with only seven games played.

"Kevin was injured last year, and has only played a handful of games," commented Cirovski. "One of the key battles in preseason is going to be who steps up and becomes No. 1 and who's pushing the No. 1 on a daily basis. This is a critical position that we'll need to have quality play out of."

Defense

With 2000 honorable mention All-American Nick Downing gone to the ranks of MLS, leading the charge this season is three-year captain Beckett Hollenbach. A starting defender, Hollenbach is the glue that will hold the team of youngsters together. The only senior on the team, Hollenbach has garnered both All-American and All-ACC honors during his time at Maryland. A quiet player when he first came to College Park, Hollenbach has developed his leadership abilities, and will need to impose his winner's mentality more than ever. In Cirovski's eyes, Hollenbach could be one of the best leaders to come through the program.

Joining Hollenbach on the starting back line is sophomore Philip Salyer, fresh off his spring and summer experience as a part of the U.S. Under-20 national team.

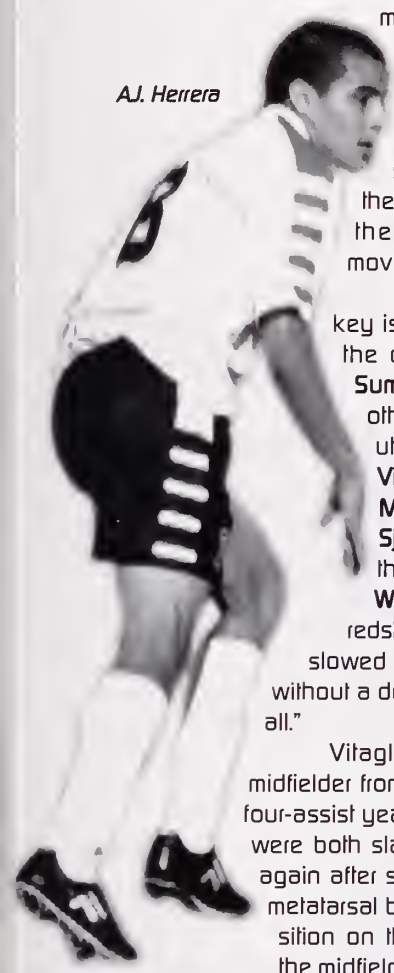
"I think we've got a real solid base with Beckett and Philip, now who wins the other one or two starting positions in the back is still up for grabs," commented Cirovski. "Sophomore Seth Stammler and junior Reed Rickert were both converted to the back this spring from the striker position, so there is still some transition that will need to take place with them.

"Chris Gormley and Ian Rodway are true defensive midfielders that are joining us this year as freshmen. Another freshman Ellis Welker is also a true back, but may need some game seasoning. We're going to see who wins the other starting spots. That's going to be a big preseason battle. I think it's been a tradition at Maryland to have very good back lines, and this will become a very good back line."

With a host of new faces in the back, whether it be converted veteran players or newcomers to the college game, whether or not the Terps play three or four in the back will affect who wins the starting spots. Whoever it is should benefit greatly and have an easy transition due to the leadership of Hollenbach and Salyer.

Midfield

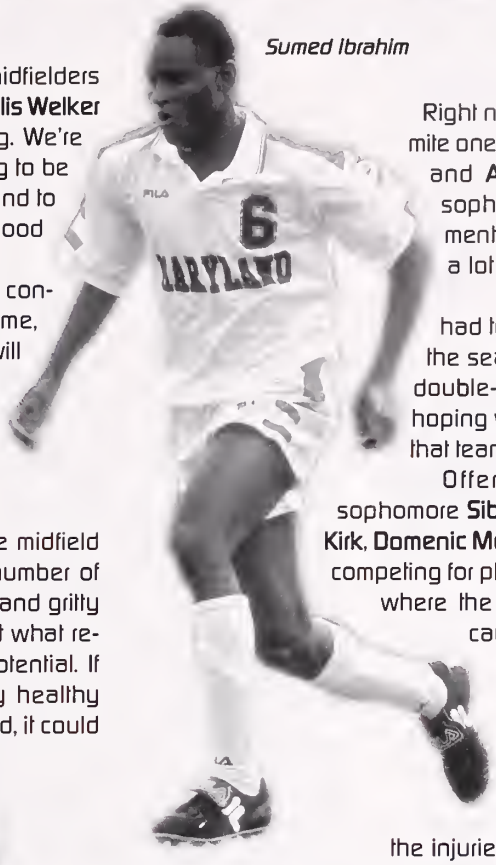
While the Terps possess a great deal of depth at the midfield position, it is a position where Maryland has its largest number of new faces this year. Gone are All-ACC selection Rob Birch and gritty midfielder Jason Sardis, but what remains is a unit rich in potential. If the midfielders can stay healthy and develop as expected, it could be a real strength for the Terrapins as the season moves along.



A.J. Herrera

According to Cirovski, "I think the key is going to be the consistency and the contributions of Scott Buete and Sumed Ibrahim. There's a myriad of other players who will fight to contribute right away from returners Bryan Vitagliano and Siba Mohammed to Michael Dello-Russo, and Robert Sjolund, who both joined the Terps this past spring to incoming freshman Wes Kirk and Domenic Mediate and redshirt freshman Jason Arnold who was slowed by a foot injury last year. This will without a doubt be the most contested area of all."

Vitagliano returns as the lone impact midfielder from last year, coming off a four-goal, four-assist year. Buete and Sumed Ibrahim, who were both slated to start last year, are healthy again after suffering stress fractures to the fifth metatarsal bone. The most hotly contested position on the Maryland lineup, the ability of the midfielders to fulfill their potential and play great two-way soccer could be an integral key to the Terps' success.



Sumed Ibrahim

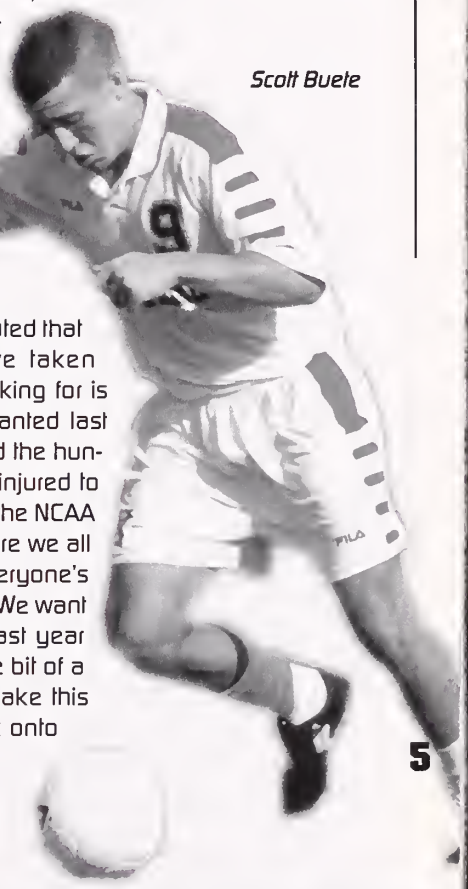
Forward

Right now, the Terps are packing a dynamite one-two punch up front with A.J. Herrera and Abe Thompson, who both have sophomore eligibility. A perfect complement to each other, the pair should put a lot of pressure on defenses.

"Last year as a freshman, Abe had to be our go-to guy up front and as the season wore on, teams were able to double-team him," said Cirovski. "We're hoping with the double threat of those two that teams will not be able to double team."

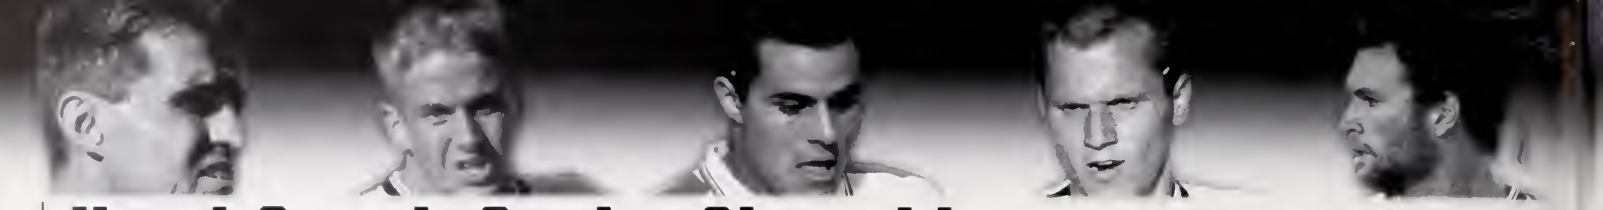
Offensive-minded midfielders like sophomore Siba Mohammed and freshmen Wes Kirk, Domenic Mediate and Robert Sjolund are also competing for playing time up front and it's an area where the Terps like to rotate forwards because of their high-pressure style.

Overall Cirovski expects this year's team to be stronger after last year's setbacks. "Last year, with all the injuries, we had a lot of inconsistencies. It was day-to-day who was going to play well. Because of all the injuries and players that were asked to play larger roles than were expected, we had inconsistencies from game to game.



Scott Buete

"As a whole, we still grew a lot as a team and a lot of players sprouted that otherwise maybe would have taken longer to develop. What I'm looking for is to see the fruits of the seed planted last year of a lot of players grow and the hunger for those players that were injured to come back and catapult us into the NCAA picture. I think it was a year where we all got mentally stronger. I think everyone's got a little chip on their shoulder. We want to come back and prove that last year was some harsh luck and a little bit of a fluke. We're all determined to make this year a year where we get back onto the Top 10 map."



Head Coach Sasho Cirovski

Head Coach
9th Season at Maryland
11th Season Overall
Wisc.-Milwaukee '85

After reaching three coaching milestones last year, Maryland head coach Sasho Cirovski is looking to reach for another major accomplishment this season- his second run to the College Cup and a national championship trophy for the Terps. Last season, Cirovski won his 100th game at Maryland, only the second coach to do so in the school's history, got his 125th career victory, and coached the 200th game of his career. Entering his ninth season at Maryland and his 11th season overall, Cirovski begins the 2001 season with a 126-73-14 (.624) career record, and a 100-58-14 (.622) record at Maryland.

The success achieved by Cirovski should really come as no surprise to any one that knows him, as he has brought the same level of excellence to each program he has touched, including Maryland's soccer program. In 1993 when he was hired to take over a program that had finished below .500 a year earlier. Few could have predicted that in eight seasons at the helm, Cirovski would have not only taken the Terrapins to the Final Four in 1998, but also guided the team to seven straight winning seasons and to the NCAA Tournament six out of the last seven years. Despite the program's storied history, including a co-championship in 1968, which it shared with Michigan State, and ACC championships each year from 1953-68, Maryland soccer no longer struck fear in the hearts of opponents when Cirovski arrived in College Park.

It was time to put the program on the map again. Enter Cirovski. Coming from Hartford, Cirovski had already taken one struggling program that had not appeared in the New England Region rankings its first few years at the Division I level, to its first-ever NCAA appearance his first season on board. Coming to Maryland, Cirovski met an equally daunting challenge.

The Terrapins were a combined 20-29-5 the three years previous to Cirovski's arrival, including a 5-12 record the year before his hiring. His first year was one of growth, and yielded a 3-14-1 record. Every year after that would be a different story. The preparation that made such improvements possible started at the beginning of his coaching career.

Cirovski developed an excellent coaching reputation over a three-year period as a Division I assistant at his alma mater, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, from 1988-90. Cirovski learned under the watchful eye of Bob Gansler, current coach of the Kansas City Wizards in MLS and the former United States World Cup head coach. During the spring of 1989, Cirovski served as an interim head coach while Gansler attended to his duties at the 1990 World Cup Championships in Italy. In his final season at Wisconsin-Milwaukee, the team made it to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in more than a decade.

His trail of success continued at Hartford, where, in only his first year, he guided the Hawks to their first-ever NCAA appearance and first-ever North Atlantic Conference championship. Hartford defeated Columbia in the first round of the NCAA Tournament and took Virginia, the eventual NCAA champion, to four overtimes before losing. Cirovski duplicated several of those feats the next season as Hartford won its second consecutive NAC championship and played in the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season. Cirovski's first two seasons were as successful as any in the collegiate ranks. He guided the Hawks to back-to-back 13-6-3 records and became one of only a handful of coaches to take a team to the NCAA Tournament in his first two years as a head coach.

The success turned heads at Maryland, and in 1993, Cirovski became the Terrapins' head coach. As the inaugural year's 3-14-1 record would show, turning the program around would be no easy task. Never one to back down from a challenge, Cirovski rose to the occasion and has elevated the Maryland program to national prominence again. The turnaround has been remarkable. In eight years, Cirovski has led the Terrapins to six trips to the NCAA Tournament, including 1998's trip to the national semifinal. The 1996 Atlantic Coast Conference champions, Maryland soccer is back on the map again.

His second season at Maryland, Cirovski's Terps' squad went to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and finished with a 14-6-1 record. A 4-3 first-round NCAA win over Georgetown was the program's first since 1969, and marked the first time since 1986 that Maryland received an invitation to the Big Dance.

The Terps' improvement from a 3-14-1 record during Cirovski's first year to a 14-6-1 record in 1994 marks the greatest single-season turnaround in the 44-year history of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The excitement was building. In 1995, the Terps proved that the previous season was no fluke, finishing with a 13-6-2 record. Maryland again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. They finished second in the ACC with a 4-1-1 mark, and ended the year ranked as high as No. 15 by Soccer America.

A No. 4 preseason ranking in 1996 had the campus buzzing from the beginning. Then, Maryland made history when it won the 1996 ACC championship, the first ever tournament championship in the program's history. After leaving Charlottesville, Va., with the championship trophy in hand, the Terps refocused their sights on the NCAA Tournament.

Avenging an earlier loss to James Madison, they defeated the Dukes 2-1 in the first round. Maryland was awarded home-field advantage in the second round and hosted then third-ranked William & Mary. The Terps' season came to an end on Dec. 1 with a 3-0 loss.

After a fourth-place regular season finish, the Terps found themselves again playing for the ACC championship in 1997. After opening the season with a school record-setting five consecutive wins, the Terps would be derailed by NC State, a team which the Terps had defeated 7-0 in the quarterfinals of the ACC Tournament one year ago. The Terps would win their next four before falling to Richmond. The Terps entered the ACC Tournament as a No. 4 seed and had a date with Clemson in the quarterfinals, a team the Terps hadn't defeated since 1989. The losing streak finally ended as the Terps prevailed, 4-2. Sitting in the wings was Duke, the top seed in the tournament. Maryland had little difficulty with the Blue Devils, also handing them a 4-2 loss. In the other semifinal, Virginia defeated Wake Forest for a championship date with the Terrapins. Virginia would escape with a 2-0 win and the ACC championship.

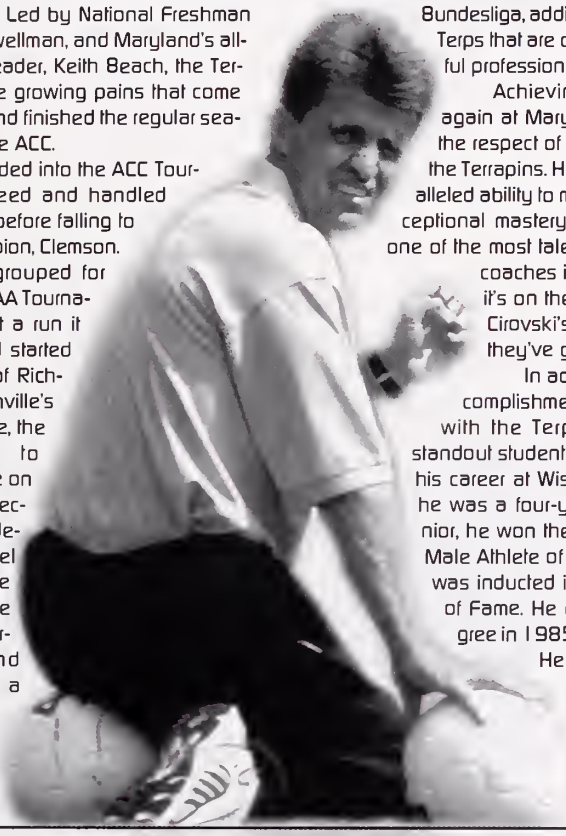
Maryland advanced to the NCAA second round for the fourth consecutive season, defeating Rutgers (1-0) in the first round before losing to American, 1-0. The Terps finished 1997 with a record of 16-6-1, a school record for wins in a season. Maryland's record earned it a No. 10 finish for the season.

Another milestone would be reached on Jan. 31, 1998, when Leo Cullen was selected as the No. 1 draft pick by the Miami Fusion in the Major League Soccer collegiate draft. A Hermann and Missouri Athletic Club award finalist in 1996 and 1997, Cullen was also selected as the 1997 ACC Player of the Year, an NSCAA first-team All-American and Collegiate MVP by Soccer America.

The respect Cirovski has earned throughout the ranks of the game, and his enthusiasm for the sport of soccer, attracted the nation's top recruiting class to College Park before the 1998 season. They did not disappoint anyone. Led by National Freshman of the Year Taylor Twellman, and Maryland's all-time career assist leader, Keith Beach, the Terrapins withstood the growing pains that come with being young and finished the regular season 12-6, 3-3 in the ACC.

Maryland headed into the ACC Tournament a No. 5 seed and handled North Carolina 2-0 before falling to eventual ACC champion, Clemson. The Terps then regrouped for their fifth straight NCAA Tournament run, and what a run it was. The first round started with a 2-1 defeat of Richmond. With Jacksonville's upset win over Duke, the Dolphins came to Ludwig Field to take on the Terrapins in the second round. A 3-0 decision would propel Maryland into the next round to face Creighton in the quarterfinals. Maryland came out on top of a 3-2 finish and packed its bags for Richmond for the Final Four.



The Terrapins' appearance in the national semifinals was the school's first since 1969. When the clock ticked down, however, it was Stanford which came out on top with a 1-0 victory. The 16-8 record would tie for the most wins in a season in school history, but the semifinal loss would leave a bitter taste.

The 1999 season saw Cirovski's team spend two weeks in the No. 1 slot in the Soccer America poll for the first time in school history. The Terps also ended the regular season with 14 wins, tying a program record for most wins in a regular season. Maryland entered the ACC Tournament as the No. 2 seed, but lost a 2-0 decision to a streaking Virginia team. Receiving its sixth straight NCAA bid, No. 6 seed Maryland was then stunned by St. John's on its home field with a 1-0 loss in the 89th minute to bring its season to an end. In the offseason, Terrapin sophomores Dan Califf and Taylor Twellman both opted to explore their options in the professional ranks with Califf being selected in the first round by the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS and Twellman signing with the 1860 Munich of the German Bundesliga, adding to Cirovski's list of former Terps that are currently enjoying successful professional careers.

Achieving a level of excellence again at Maryland, Cirovski has added the respect of more people than ever for the Terrapins. He has combined an unparalleled ability to motivate and teach with exceptional mastery of technique to become one of the most talented and versatile soccer coaches in the nation. And whether it's on the field or in the classroom, Cirovski's student-athletes give it all they've got, and it shows.

In addition to the coaching accomplishments of his nine-year career with the Terps, Cirovski was also a standout student-athlete himself. He began his career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee where he was a four-year letterwinner. As a senior, he won the Herman Kluge Award for Male Athlete of the Year and in 1998 he was inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1985 and his master's in 1989. He then spent parts of three seasons as a professional player and coach with the teams in the Canadian Soccer League, and the National Professional Soccer League. His first taste of coaching came in 1987 in the Canadian Soccer League.

Cirovski is entering his 11th year of coaching overall, and holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation, as well as an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. During the summer of 1997, he served as the assistant coach of the JVC U-17 World Youth Championship team, which played against Argentina, Uraguay, Egypt and two domestic camps. Jeff Rohrman

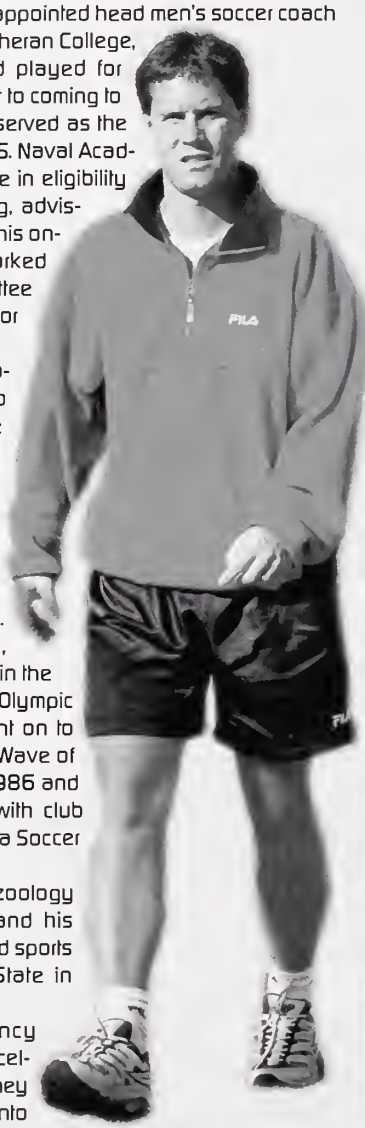
Assistant Coach
7th Season at Maryland
Wisc.-Milwaukee '86

One of the top assistants in the country, Maryland's Jeff Rohrman is undoubtedly one of the components who has been essential in bringing the Terps to the forefront of the national soccer picture once again. Rohrman's drive and desire parallel Sasho Cirovski's excitement for the game, and mix together to create one of the best sideline combinations in the ACC and in the country.

In his seventh season with the Terrapins, Rohrman's duties include everything from coordinating Maryland's travel schedule, to recruiting, practice, administration, working with student-athletes, and assisting Cirovski in countless behind-the-scenes tasks that make the university's soccer program one of the best.

In the state of Maryland, Rohrman has established himself as one of the top club coaches and is also active in the Olympic Developmental Program.

Rohrman's first coaching experience came when he was appointed head men's soccer coach at Bethany Lutheran College, where he had played for two years. Prior to coming to Maryland, he served as the assistant women's soccer coach at the U.S. Naval Academy. While there, he gathered experience in eligibility tracking, community relations, scheduling, advising and budget management, as well as his on-field coaching duties. Rohrman also worked as an intern for the U.S. Olympic Committee where he coordinated the competition for the U-20 National Team.



As a player, Rohrman spent two seasons at Wisconsin-Milwaukee and two years at Bethany Lutheran College. He played alongside Cirovski in 1984 while at Wisconsin-Milwaukee. During his time there, he earned all-state honors, was named team captain, and was voted team MVP following his senior season. He earned All-American status following his sophomore season at Bethany Lutheran.

Aside from collegiate experience, Rohrman has played professionally and in the Olympic ranks. A participant in the 1986 Olympic Soccer Festival in Houston, he then went on to play professionally with the Milwaukee Wave of the American Indoor Soccer League in 1986 and 1987. Rohrman also has experience with club soccer, playing for the Real Santa Barbara Soccer Club of the Western Soccer League.

He earned a bachelor's degree in zoology from Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 1986 and his master's degree in physical education and sports administration from Mankato (Minn.) State in 1991.

He is married to the former Nancy Kramarz. Their first child, Danielle Marie, celebrated her third birthday this past April. They welcomed their second child, Nicholas, into the world this past winter.

Andy Kirk

Goalkeeper Coach
1st Season at Maryland
Maryland '97

Andy Kirk enters his first year on the University of Maryland's coaching staff, and will work with the Terrapin goalkeepers this season. Kirk finished his two-year career for Maryland as a starter in 1997 before leaving to play professionally in MLS. A standout during his two-year Terp career, Kirk was a part of Maryland's 1996 run to the ACC championship. The next season, he earned the Terps' starting nod, and was a member of the ACC's all-tournament team en route to a 15-6-1 record and 0.98 goals against average. The 1996 squad won a then-school record 16 wins that season before Kirk entered the ranks of MLS.

Kirk played from 1998-2000 in MLS, one year for the San Jose Clash and his final two years for the Tampa Bay Mutiny with fellow Terrapin R.T. Moore. While in Tampa, he trained the goalkeepers for the Countryside S.C. as well as sharing his knowledge at numerous other clinics. His other professional playing experience has come as part of Liverpool F.C. and Everton F.C., both in England, as well as Glasgow Rangers in Scotland.

In addition to his collegiate and professional playing experience, Kirk has compiled a wealth of experience in the U.S. national team program. He was part of the U-17 team that competed in the World Youth Championships in Japan in 1993. In 1997, Kirk was a starter for the U-20 team, which took part in the World Youth Championships in Malaysia. He has also been a U-23 Olympic Pool player.

2000 Season Review Notebook

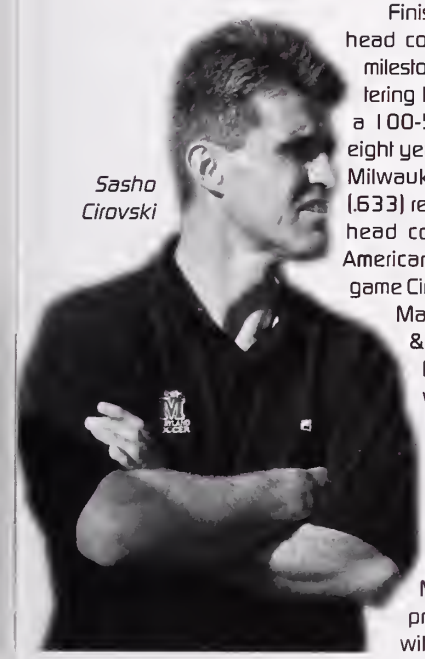
Terps End Injury-Plagued Year At 10-9, Narrowly Missing NCAA Bid

The Maryland men's soccer team finished the 2000 season with a first round overtime loss to Duke in the ACC Tournament. The Terps fought to the bitter end, but suffered the heartbreaking double-overtime defeat despite their valiant efforts. In a year with seven season-ending injuries to major impact players, the Terps had to rely on a large amount of freshmen in the starting lineup almost immediately. The freshmen did not disappoint, and stood as the Terrapins' top five scorers when the season came to an end.

Birch Earns All-ACC Recognition

Senior midfielder Rob Birch was honored with second team All-ACC recognition at the 2000 ACC men's soccer banquet, which is held in conjunction with the conference's annual tournament. Birch was a stronghold for the Terps all season in the midfield, even scoring three goals and two assists. The conference honor was the first for Birch in his career, and marked the only Terp to earn All-ACC honors in the 2000 season.

Cirovski Reaches 100, 125, 200



Sasho Cirovski

Finishing his eighth year at Maryland, head coach Sasho Cirovski reached three milestones during the 19-game season. Entering the 2001 season, he has compiled a 100-58-14 (.622) record at Maryland in eight years. A 1985 graduate of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Cirovski owns a 126-70-14 (.633) record through his first 10 years as a head coach. The Terps' 3-0 win against American on Sept. 27 marked the 200th game Cirovski has coached in his career, and Maryland's 1-0 victory against William & Mary on Oct. 22 stood as his 125th career victory. Cirovski won his 100th game with the Terps on Oct. 25 vs. Loyola. The win against Loyola made him the second coach in Maryland history to reach the 100-win plateau. Doyle Royal (1946-73), who coached at Maryland for the first 28 years of the program, is the only other head coach with 100 or more victories with the Terps.

Sardis Finishes Fourth On Career Assists List

Senior Jason Sardis jumped onto the career assists list at Maryland in 1999, and kept on climbing after rejoining the team just weeks into the 2000 season. Sardis finished his Terp career with 20 assists, which puts him in the No. 4 spot.

Top Five Terp Scorers Were Freshmen

After freshman Seth Stammler's two goals against Duquesne on Oct. 18, he moved into the Top 5 Maryland scorers for the 2000 season. On the final stat sheet, that made the first five scorers on the Terps' list entirely new faces on the Maryland roster. Freshman Abe Thompson led Maryland with 13 goals and five assists, with Clarence Goodson second with four goals and five assists. Classmate Bryan Vitagliano was third with four goals and four assists. Stammler and Philip Salyer were tied for fourth with four goals and two assists each.

Bitten by the Injury Bug

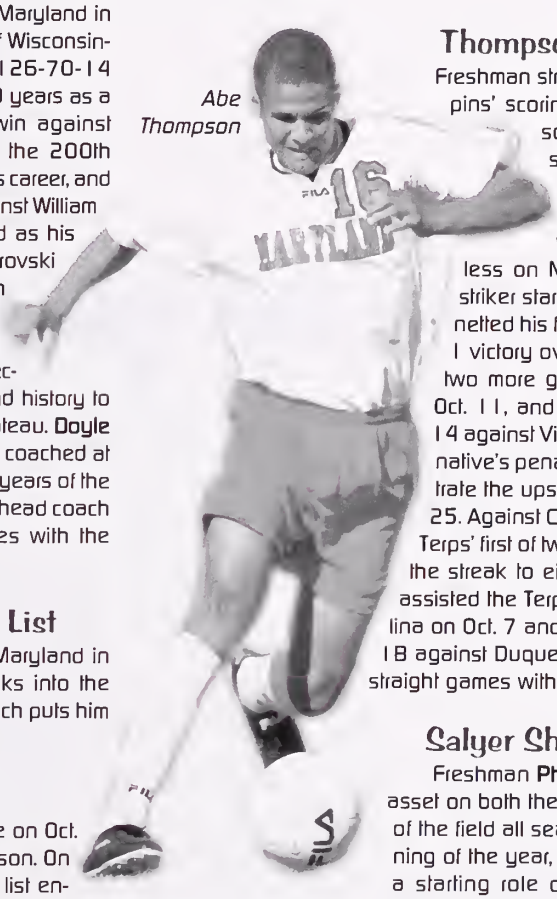
Sophomore Scott Buete suffered a broken foot during the 36th minute of the Indiana game on Sept. 8, beginning an injury streak previously unseen by head coach Sasho Cirovski. The sophomore starter missed the rest of the season, underwent surgery, and was approved for a medical redshirt. Sophomore starter AJ. Herrera also suffered a season-ending foot injury, and redshirted as well.

Also in September, both Siba Mohammed and Matt Roberts underwent operations to correct lingering knee problems from earlier surgeries. The pair joined Buete and Herrera on the sidelines for the rest of 2000, bringing the number of season-ending injuries to four.

In what turned out to be the final wave of surgeries for the team, Herrera and freshman Jason Arnold both underwent surgery in the beginning of October to have screws inserted in their feet to stabilize stress fractures. That brought the number of medical redshirts to five.

Sophomore Sumed Ibrahim also underwent foot surgery during the preseason and did not recover fully during the 2000 season, adding him to the medical redshirt list, as well. Rounding out the list of redshirts for Maryland was junior goalkeeper Kevin Schmidt, who sprained his toe in late September and missed the rest of the season with the injury. All total, nine out of 21 Terps sustained injuries, which caused them to miss either entire games, crucial minutes of play, or the remainder of the season. Five of the injured players were projected starters before the 2000 campaign began, and seven took medical redshirts.

Thompson On the Attack



Abe Thompson

Freshman striker Abe Thompson led the Terrapins' scoring efforts during the 2000 season, posting 13 goals and five assists. Thompson had an eight-game scoring streak going down the stretch, but saw his streak end when the Terps were held scoreless on Nov. 4 at Virginia. The freshman striker started his streak on Oct. 4 when he netted his first career hat trick in the Terps' 5-1 victory over Monmouth. Thompson added two more goals against George Mason on Oct. 11, and netted the game-winner on Oct. 14 against Virginia Commonwealth. The Fairfax native's penalty kick helped the Terps orchestrate the upset against No. 21 Loyola on Oct. 25. Against Clemson on Oct. 28, he scored the Terps' first of two goals in the 3-2 loss to extend the streak to eight. The talented freshman also assisted the Terps' lone goal against North Carolina on Oct. 7 and added two more assists on Oct. 18 against Duquesne to help string together eight straight games with at least one point each.

Salyer Shines For Terrapins

Freshman Philip Salyer was undoubtedly an asset on both the defensive and offensive halves of the field all season during 2000. At the beginning of the year, Salyer immediately stepped into a starting role on Maryland's defense, further complementing the veteran unit of Nick Downing, Beckett Hollenbach, and Mike Shebuski and spelling the loss of Danny Califf (1998-99) in the back.

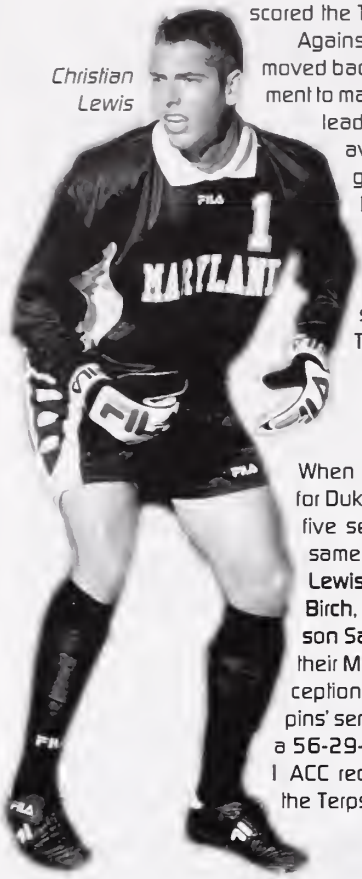
After the Terps were bitten by the injury bug, Salyer was moved into the midfield to give the team a lift. He did just that, scoring four goals in a four-game stretch between Sept. 27 and Oct. 7. Salyer scored twice in Maryland's

3-0 win over American on Sept. 27, notching Maryland's first and last goals of the day. He also tied the game at three for the Terrapins on Oct. 1 against Wake Forest. Against North Carolina on Oct. 7, he scored the Terps' only goal of the day.

Against George Mason on Oct. 11, Salyer was moved back to the defense, accepting the assignment to mark Eduardo Lima, then the nation's third-leading goal scorer. Before that game, Lima averaged 1.2 goals and 2.60 points per game. Salyer held the striker scoreless through 90 minutes, breaking Lima's string of seven straight games with a goal, displaying once again that he is another one of college soccer's bright stars. Salyer ended the season as the Terps' fifth-leading scorer.



Christian Lewis

Bidding the Seniors Farewell

When Donald McIntosh hit the game-winner for Duke in the ACC Tournament, the careers of five senior Terrapins came to an end in the same moment. Starting goalkeeper Christian Lewis, second-team All-ACC midfielder Rob Birch, defender Mike Shebuski, midfielder Jason Sardis, and striker Nick Purdom all ended their Maryland careers at Spry Stadium. An exceptional class on and off the field, the Terrapins' seniors finished their four-year careers with a 56-29-1 overall record (.657), and an 11-12-1 ACC record, (.479) and were a pivotal part in the Terps' 1998 finish as NCAA semifinalists.

Nick Downing

One of the Toughest Schedules

An injury-depleted Maryland squad has nothing to be ashamed of after facing the nation's best toe-to-toe without flinching, and ending the 2000 season with a 10-9 record. The Terps' strength of schedule finished ranked 27th in the nation, with the Terps facing a schedule in which half their opponents were ranked nationally for all or part of the year. Maryland also competed in what was the top-rated conference in Division 1 men's soccer, according to College Soccer Online.

Downing Heads to the Ranks of MLS

Maryland defender Nick Downing opted to forgo his final year of collegiate eligibility in 2001 and was selected 21st overall in the Major League Soccer SuperDraft. Downing was picked by the New England Revolution, and joins former Maryland stars Danny Califf (1998-99), and Leo Cullen (1995-97) in the MLS ranks.

Downing anchored a defense in 2000 that held eight opponents scoreless and gave up only 1.28 gpg. A first-team NSCAA All-South Atlantic Region selection, he was a Hermann Trophy candidate for the past two years, and was consistently among the top defenders in the country. A 2000 honorable mention All-American by College Soccer Online, Downing finished his career with 13 assists, including seven in his junior year with Maryland.

Game 1 Sept. 1 at Virginia Classic

MD 4 JU 1

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.– Despite a lackluster first half, the Maryland men's soccer team defeated Jacksonville by a score of 4-1 in the opening game of the Virginia/Coca-Cola Classic. Sophomore AJ. Herrera scored what would be the game-winner late in the first half to lift the Terrapins to a 1-0 start. Jacksonville falls to 0-1 with the three-goal loss.

The Dolphins jumped out early just 8:35 into the contest when a breakdown between the Maryland defense led to a misplay by the Terps and an unassisted goal by Mladen Dikic. The goal woke the Terps, and five minutes later, Maryland converted off a cross from the left side of the field. Hermann Trophy finalist Nick Downing crossed it to sophomore Scott Buete who tapped it to Bryan Vitagliano for the first Terrapin score. The goal was Vitagliano's first of his career. Maryland took a 2-1 lead into the half off a header courtesy of Herrera, who scored at 29:41. Downing was credited with the assist on that play as well after finding Herrera off the corner kick.

The Terps played a quicker, crisper brand of soccer in the second half and held the Dolphins scoreless through the last 45 minutes. Co-captain Beckett Hollenbach found Rob Birch for a short five-yard shot in front of the goal at 61:18. Sophomore Reed Rickert capped off the scoring with 1:30 remaining.

Game 2 Sept. 3 at Virginia Classic

MD 3 OPP 0

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.– Freshman striker Abe Thompson redirected a corner kick into the net that would be the eventual game winner for the Terrapins, as Maryland ended a rainy day on an excellent note, securing a 3-0 win over South Florida. The Terps begin the 2000 season 2-0 after defeating Jacksonville 4-1 in the opening game of the Virginia/Coca-Cola Classic.

Playing in steady rain most of the afternoon, Maryland struck first when junior co-captain Nick Downing found Thompson for the touch into the goal. The score was the first of Thompson's collegiate career. The freshman's goal would stick as the game winner, but Maryland's offense wasn't done for the day.

The second half was a rough one, and included a red card on South Florida goalie Troy Perkins at 61:16. The card resulted from a trip outside the box as Thompson was breaking toward the goal. The Terrapins finally capitalized on the man-up situation when Bryan Vitagliano ripped a shot from 40 yards out that rebounded off reserve goalie Chris Simpson, who was drawn out on the play. Terp freshman Clarence Goodson then fired the ball toward the open goal, scoring from 35 yards out. The goal, coming at 81:02, was Goodson's first of his collegiate career. Sophomore Scott Buete finished the scoring for Maryland at 87:42 on an unassisted. Buete's goal marked the seventh different Terrapin to score this season out of seven total team goals.

Game 3 Sept. 8 Maryland/ FILA Classic

IU 2 MD 1

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Indiana junior John Swann deposited a ball from five yards out off a Ryan Mack corner kick to score the golden goal and give Indiana its first win of the year, 2-1. The goal came 11:33 into the first overtime to end a hard-fought battle between No. 8 Maryland (2-1) and No. 15 Indiana (1-2) to conclude the first day of the Maryland/FILA Classic.

Terrapin freshman Bryan Vitagliano opened the scoring with his second career goal off a fastbreak at 75:31. Sophomore AJ. Herrera and freshman Abe Thompson assisted on the play.

The Hoosiers answered less than a minute later when David Prall scored after a scramble in front of the goal. The goal sent the game into overtime where play was scoreless until the corner kick at 101:33 led to the Swann goal.

The contest was a physical one that included 46 fouls and four cards. Terps starting goalie Christian Lewis tallied eight saves in the loss, while Hoosier keeper T.J. Hannig ended the victory with four saves.

Game 4 Sept. 10 Maryland/ FILA Classic

SC 1 MD 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- South Carolina's Anthony Vitagliano won the battle of the brothers when his header in the 89th minute elevated the No. 22 Gamecocks over the No. 8 Maryland Terrapins and brother Bryan Vitagliano. Bryan, the younger of the two Vitagliano brothers, earned all-tournament recognition for his performance along with Terp junior Nick Downing.

Despite several exciting opportunities for the Maryland offense, South Carolina goalie and FILA Classic Defensive MVP Henry Ring stopped 10 Terrapin shots to put the Gamecocks in position to pull their second upset in two days. It was Anthony Vitagliano who put a head on the ball from the left side and got one past Maryland keeper Christian Lewis at 88:49 for the game-winner for South Carolina. Chris Herron and Jon Rich were each credited with assists on the play.

Maryland had one final chance to score, but Ring was able to stop junior Tyler Pharr's shot cold to seal the win. On the first day of Maryland/FILA Classic action, the Gamecocks upset Virginia 2-1. The Sunday win over Maryland made South Carolina 2-0 for the weekend, good enough for second in the FILA Tournament behind Indiana, which was also 2-0, but won the tournament after scoring more goals over the two-day tournament.

RETRIEVERS 2 MARYLAND 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Just hours after finding out that sophomore forward A.J. Herrera would take a medical redshirt this season, the No. 23 Terrapin men's soccer team dropped a 2-0 decision to regional foe UMBC at Ludwig Field. Herrera was the second Maryland player in less than a week to take a medical redshirt. Sophomore Scott Buete broke his left foot in the first half of the Indiana game on Sept. 8 and will also redshirt this season.

UMBC's Giuliano Celenza scored twice for the Retrievers to capture the win. Celenza struck first at 18:44 in the first half on an unassisted goal that ricocheted in off the crossbar. Play would be scoreless, despite the Terrapins generating several good chances. Celenza sealed the Terrapins' fate with less than 17 minutes remaining when he broke away from his defender, and came at Terrapin goalie Christian Lewis. Celenza fired the shot from 10 yards out, and sent the ball sailing over Lewis into the back of the net.

Despite outshooting the Retrievers 23-8, Maryland lost its third straight and first to UMBC since 1993 when the Terps lost a 3-1 overtime game at UMBC.

MARYLAND 5 NC STATE 0

RALEIGH, N.C.- The No. 23 Maryland Terrapins got two first-half goals from forward Abe Thompson and defeated the NC State Wolfpack 5-0, at the Method Road Soccer Complex. The game marked the ACC opener for both squads.

With their offensive explosion, the Terrapins snapped a three-game losing streak, while NC State has now lost two in a row. Thompson got Maryland on the scoreboard at the 11:17 mark, when he won possession of the ball after a Maryland corner kick and beat Pack keeper Mitchell Watson up high. Thompson gave the Terps some insurance just before the half, as he took a cross from Nick Purdom and netted his third goal of the season to give Maryland a 2-0 lead.

Maryland came out strong in the second half, with Bryan Vitagliano finding the back of the net off of a cross from Rob Birch just over 10 minutes into the second frame. Freshman Clarence Goodson then capitalized on a two-on-one break and scored at 78:51. Birch got his second assist of the game, when he found Seth Stammler alone on the back post with just over one minute remaining to cap off the scoring. The goal was Stammler's first of his career.

Bryan Vitagliano

The Wolfpack got their fair shot of attempts on the Maryland goal, but could not put a ball past Terps' goalkeeper Christian Lewis. NC State's best chance came midway through the second half when Tony Malcolm beat Lewis with a shot from the top of the box, but Terps' defender and Hermann Trophy candidate Nick Downing was able to get his head on the ball at the goal line. The defensive stop was Downing's second of the day.

Maryland outshot the Pack 16-10 for the game. Lewis recorded the shutout for Maryland, as he notched six saves on the day, while NC State's Watson finished with five.

DUKE 2 MARYLAND 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Freshman Jordan Cila scored the game-winning goal at 28:34 to lift the No. 16 Duke men's soccer team over Maryland by a score of 2-0 at Ludwig Field. The goal was Cila's sixth of the year.

Maryland opened with a strong, attacking offense that generated good looks early, but Duke's Cila cooled the Terps with his goal. The score, a slow dribbler past Terrapin keeper Christian Lewis, resulted from a miscue by the Terps, who thought a foul or offsides had been called. The goal stood without question, and the Blue Devils would take the 1-0 advantage into the half.

The Terrapins only managed five shots in the second half, and even played a man-down after midfielder Jason Sardis received a red card in the 78th minute. Senior tri-captain Ali Curtis made a Terrapins' comeback all but impossible when he crossed a hard shot from the left side of the goal past Lewis into the lower right side of the net for the Blue Devils' last score of the day.

Shots were a 19-13 Duke advantage. Jeff Haywood earned the win in goal with seven saves. Maryland's Lewis finished with nine saves in the losing effort, a season-high for the senior keeper. Abe Thompson led the Terps with five shots. Both Rob Birch and Tyler Pharr had two shots on goal for Maryland.

For the injury-plagued Terps who fielded just 14 healthy players and used their sixth different starting lineup in seven games, it was the team's fourth straight loss at Ludwig Field.

MARYLAND 3 DUKE 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Freshman Philip Salyer scored his first two collegiate goals to lead the Maryland men's soccer team to a 3-0 win over American. The win came in Terps' head coach Sasho Cirovski's 200th career game as a Division I head coach.

Just 5:46 into the game, it was apparent that the Terps would not be denied when Salyer blazed a trail up the left side of the field, receiving the pass and making the deposit in the right side of the net for Maryland's first score of the day. Classmates Abe Thompson and Bryan Vitagliano both recorded assists on the play.

Scoring was idle until just before the second half when Vitagliano fed senior midfielder Rob Birch down the center of the field on a breakaway. With 5:35 minutes remaining in the half, Birch sent the shot low into the corner of the net past American goalie Michael Gorsegner, who recorded five saves on the afternoon.

In a game littered with 43 fouls and eight cards, Maryland was forced to play with only 10 players when Birch received his second yellow card of the night in the 59th minute and was relegated to the sidelines for the remainder of the game. The Terps continued on, unfazed by the man-down situation, and even scored again at 71:29 when Salyer finished what he started. He converted Maryland's final goal of the day on a shot from the left side. Clarence Goodson was credited with the helper on Salyer's goal, his second of the game as well as his Terrapin career.

Senior Christian Lewis recorded his third shutout of the season, and tallied six saves in the win.

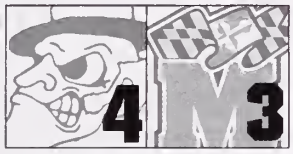
Game 9 Oct. 1 at Wake Forest



WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - Ben Stafford netted the game winner in the 99th minute to down the visiting Terrapins 4-3 in overtime at Spry Stadium.

Maryland struck first on a corner kick sequence in the 33rd minute. Junior co-captain Nick Downing found senior Jason Sardis on the short pass, which he crossed nicely across the front of the net from right to left. Tyler Pharr was there with his 6-2 frame for the header past Wake Forest goalie Rob Varfughian, who recorded five saves in the win.

Just three minutes later, a Deacon foul just outside the box set the Terrapins up for the indirect kick. Downing took the lead on the set piece, with Terrapins streaming through the box, only to hit Sardis less than five yards to his left with the pass. Sardis ripped the shot from 15 yards out and fit it just past Wake's goalkeeper into the upper left corner of the net.

Wake Forest got on the scoreboard in the second half when a corner kick sequence led to a battle in front of the net. The Deacons scored when Jamal Seale got a foot on the ball and found Stafford on the touch through heavy traffic. Stafford sealed the deal, hitting a straight shot from five yards out past Christian Lewis, who ended the day with three saves.

Two goals in a three-minute span proved to be the undoing of the young Terps. Wake's second goal was an own goal, with Kevin Wickart netting an unassisted Deacon goal 3:13 later. Maryland managed to send the game into overtime when freshman defender Philip Salyer broke away on a pass from Bryan Vitagliano and fired the shot from close range. Varfughian deflected the ball, but Salyer was there to finish the shot for his third goal of the week, just beating Wake defender Brock Hilpert to the ball before it crossed the goal line.

Good fortune would shine on the Deacons 8:37 into the first overtime, when Stafford hit the game winner to send the Terps home with their second conference loss of the year.

Game 10 Oct. 4 at Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Maryland freshman Abe Thompson scored his first career hat trick to lift the Terrapins' men's soccer team to a 5-1 win over Monmouth. All of Thompson's goals came in the second half of the Terps' home win.

Dominant from the start of the game, Maryland finally converted its first goal in the 35th minute when senior Rob Birch capitalized on a Monmouth turnover and scored the 15-yarder. The goal was the third of the year for Birch.

The score remained 1-0 until Thompson got hot in the second half. Freshman classmate Seth Stammler set Thompson up for his first goal at 58:03 and just over eight minutes later, Monmouth found itself behind 4-0 after Thompson converted a penalty kick at 63:16 and added his third and final goal of the night at 66:11. Thompson's high school teammate Clarence Goodson added the assist to help round out Thompson's first collegiate hat trick. Thompson's three-goal performance against Monmouth marked the first-ever hat trick at Ludwig Field, and is the Terps' first hat trick since 1994 when Shane Dougherty (1995-96) hit for three at Denton Field in Maryland's 5-0 defeat of Butler.

Midfielder Bryan Vitagliano put an exclamation on Maryland's victory when he scored on a high lob at 82:22. Jason Sardis and Tyler Pharr added assists on the goal. The assist moved Sardis up one more spot on Maryland's all-time assists chart to tie Randy Merkel (1996-98) with 19 at the No. 4 spot.

Monmouth's Marc Lewis scored with less than three minutes remaining and ruined the Terrapin shutout when he scored the Hawks' lone goal of the game at 87:56. Hawks' goalkeeper Tim Fauth ended the day with four saves, Maryland keeper Christian Lewis finished with two.

Game 11 Oct. 7 at Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Junior Chris Carrieri scored two goals and added an assist for North Carolina to give the Tar Heels a 5-1 ACC win at Ludwig Field.

Philip Salyer scored his fourth goal in as many games just over seven minutes into the action, but it would prove to be the only goal for Maryland all night. Terrapin leading scorer Abe Thompson assisted the Maryland goal, a dynamic diving header from six yards out. Carolina evened the score at 24:50 when Logan Pause netted his third goal of the year on a long cross off a scramble in front of the Terrapin goal.

The Tar Heels took the lead when Matt Laycock took a Carrieri corner kick and deposited it in the right side of the net from seven yards out. Carolina took the 2-1 lead into the break, and momentum never swung the Terps way again. Caleb Norkus put the Heels up two less than three minutes into the second half, setting up Carrieri for the final two-goal punch to make the final score a 5-1 Tar Heel victory.

M 4 X 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- Freshman Abe Thompson netted two goals to lead Maryland to a 4-0 win over George Mason at Ludwig Field. W.T. Woodson High School teammate Clarence Goodson also pitched in a goal and two assists for the Terps. Maryland is now 6-6, while local rival George Mason falls to 7-5 for the year.

Maryland didn't take long to get on the scoreboard, and was up 1-0 on a Goodson goal just 43 seconds into the game. Junior co-captain Nick Downing got the assist on the play after a nicely placed cross. The trouble continued for George Mason when defender Rob Klug was red-carded in the ninth minute for a hard foul of Maryland's Thompson on a breakaway. The card was assessed after the defender received his second caution of the day and relegated the Patriots to play one short for the rest of the night.

Thompson capitalized on the advantage, scoring in the 31st minute from 20 yards out off an assist from Goodson. The Terps went into the half up 2-0, but didn't let their energy lapse in the second half. In the 60th minute, George Mason's Brent Leiba was whistled for a foul on Terrapin Seth Stammler in the box. On the ensuing penalty shot, Thompson beat Mason's keeper to the right side for his second of the day, and his third multi-goal game of his collegiate career.

Stammler found the net after Downing and Goodson laced some passes through a scramble in front of the Patriots' goal for the Terps' final score of the night in the 70th minute. Freshman defender Philip Salyer held the nation's second-leading goal scorer, Mason's Eduardo Lima, scoreless, marking the senior tightly throughout the night. Entering the game, Lima was averaging 1.2 goals per game and 2.6 points per game. Maryland goalie Christian Lewis recorded his 18th career shutout in the win.

M 1 D 0

RICHMOND, VA.- Maryland defeated Virginia Commonwealth 1-0 in a non-conference match at Sports Backers Stadium on a goal just six minutes in by Terrapin freshman Abe Thompson.

Maryland came out of the gates dominating play and would get the only goal it would need in the sixth minute when Rams defender Milorad Djordjevic fouled Terrapin attacker Seth Stammler just outside the penalty area. Thompson blasted a shot on the ensuing free kick from 18 yards out, beating junior goalkeeper Adam Mead to his right for the early lead.

The Terps' defense held on in the waning minutes to make head coach Sasho Cirovski's birthday a happy one by earning the win. Terrapin goalkeeper Christian Lewis made two saves for his fifth shutout of the season. Maryland, who beat George Mason 4-0 three nights ago, avenged the Rams' upset victory over the seventh-ranked Terps last season in College Park.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- The freshman duo of Seth Stammler and Abe Thompson connected twice to lead the Maryland men's soccer team past Duquesne at Ludwig Field. For the Terps, the 4-0 win was the team's third straight shutout.

Maryland controlled the entire game, with Stammler hitting his first goal in the sixth minute. Thompson fired a hard shot that rebounded off a Duquesne defender and found Stammler's feet in traffic. The freshman striker then made the deposit from seven yards out for the 1-0 Terrapin lead.

The Terps didn't score again until the second half when Clarence Goodson found the net on a Tyler Pharr pass from close range to put the Terps' up two. Stammler converted again in the 66th minute on a wide cross from Thompson to make it a 3-0 Terp advantage. The two-goal performance was the first multi-goal game of Stammler's career.

Pharr topped off the Maryland victory with a goal of his own at 78:14 when Reed Rickert tipped a soft lob over Duquesne keeper Terry McNelis, who was drawn out on the play. Once Rickert found Pharr, the Dukes could only watch the junior defender pitch it in from close range. Senior Mike Shebuski was also credited with an assist for getting the play started.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Maryland's freshman sensation Abe Thompson continued his hot stretch as he scored the only goal of the day to lift Maryland to a 1-0 shutout of William & Mary. For Maryland, the win was the fourth straight, all of which have come by shutout and all which were recorded by senior keeper Christian Lewis.

Thompson, who has now recorded points in six straight games, beat Tribe keeper Billy Platz into the lower left corner of the goal at the 61:45 mark. The goal came off a cross from freshman Philip Salyer, who had taken a through ball from senior Jason Sardis to begin the sequence. Over the six-game stretch, Thompson now has seven goals and three assists for 17 points.

The shutout win for Lewis was his seventh this season and gives him 21 for his four-year career. He made three saves including one in the final minute in a wild exchange to preserve the win. In the final 30 seconds, William & Mary had three shots including a Doug Henry blast which was stopped by Lewis and a Caleb Stoddart shot that hit off the right post.

The victory was a monumental one for Maryland head coach Sasho Cirovski, who won his 125th career game.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- The Maryland men's soccer team upset No. 21 Loyola 1-0 on a penalty kick from freshman Abe Thompson. The goal continued a seven-game scoring streak for the striker and marked head coach Sasho Cirovski's 100th victory at the Terps' helm. The 1-0 win was also the fifth straight shutout for the Terps and their starting goalie, senior Christian Lewis, who had three saves on the evening.

The game was evenly played through most of the first half and early in the second half, until the action started to heat up as the clock wound down. At 72:53, Loyola's Peter Kebis received the Greyhounds' second yellow card of the evening. From there, the last 17 minutes of the game would become a tightly-contested stretch containing five more yellow cards and the penalty kick that led to Maryland's win. In the 77th minute, freshman Bryan Vitagliano was streaking through the middle of the box when he was taken down hard by a Loyola defender. Thompson nailed the ensuing penalty kick, his third penalty conversion of the year, giving the Terps the only goal they would need.

The remaining 13-plus minutes were filled with action and anxiety, but the Terps were able to pull out the win to raise their record to 10-6. The 21st-ranked Greyhounds fell to 11-3-1.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.- The Maryland men's soccer team mounted a late charge to come within a goal, but eventually fell to the No. 19 Clemson Tigers by a 3-2 decision at Ludwig Field. Mark Lisi, who scored two goals on the night, paced the Tigers.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - The No. 6 seed Maryland men's soccer team (10-9) lost a heartbreaker to No. 3 seed Duke (14-4) in double overtime in the first round of the ACC Tournament. Donald McIntosh scored the golden goal in the 112th minute to end the Terps' hopes for a run in the tournament.

After a scoreless first period, Duke opened the scoring in the second half off a Demetrio Sanchez goal at 48:00. Sanchez was able to fit one past Terrapin keeper Christian Lewis in the far corner of the net from seven yards out.

The Terps tied it up with less than 15 minutes remaining when freshman Bryan Vitagliano advanced the ball to senior striker Jason Sardis. Sardis crossed it to freshman sensation Abe Thompson, who converted the shot from point blank range to tie the game at one.

Duke's Justin Bodiya nearly put the game away for the Blue Devils with two minutes remaining in regulation when he fired a shot from 15 yards out. Lewis was there for the leaping save to tip the ball over the goal and essentially send the game into overtime.

In the overtime, Duke dominated in shots category for the first frame, but the 15 minutes expired without the coveted golden goal for either team. In the second overtime, Maryland held the advantage in shots, coming close to scoring a goal on a Thompson shot that was ruled offsides. Duke scored just minutes later off a flurry in front of the Maryland goal. Donald McIntosh scored the game winner for the Blue Devils in the 112th minute to end the Terps' ACC title hopes.

"This was one of the greatest college games that I have ever been a part of," said Maryland head coach Sasho Cirovski during his postgame comments. "We played our hearts out, and did the things we needed to do to beat Duke... This game typified our season of heartbreak. We had a lot of setbacks, but I have never been more proud of any individuals I have coached. I'm so proud of these guys. They have made me a better coach."

"Look at any of our players and know that they left everything out on the field," commented senior goalie Christian Lewis, who played an exceptional game and finished with seven saves. "Unfortunately, this game did typify our season and ended in a loss."

Ludwig Field, Home Of The Terps

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past six years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,000-seat facility is an integral part of the more than $40 million of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to six NCAA Tournament games, including Maryland's 3-2 win over Creighton in 1998, which sent the Terps to the College Cup.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high-level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

Numerous Terrapin All-Americans have called the field home, with Maryland fighting its way to a 45-20-3 record on its home field.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

There have been three men's soccer crowds of more than 3,000 since Ludwig Field was constructed in 1995. An all-time high of 3,723 came out to Maryland's game with Virginia on Sept. 13, 1997.

LEADING THE WAY INTO THE 21ST CENTURY

- A Carnegie Research-I University
- Member, Assoc. of American Universities (AAU)
- Flagship of the University System of Maryland
- NCAA Division I Athletics

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty, fellow students or friends at other universities.

University President C.D. Mote Jr.

When C.D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998 he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Three years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community, and in the world.

The University of Maryland is the state of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

Fulfilling that responsibility is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, taught engineering and eventually became vice chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

One of Mote's first tasks here was to serve on a governor's task force to examine the funding and organization of the University System of Maryland. The result was a 1999 law reaffirming the university's flagship status and a commitment to become one of the best public universities in the nation.

As president, Mote is committed to achieving that goal by creating a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, continuing to emphasize the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's internal and external connections, and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress in each of these areas can be measured by the quality of its programs; the stature of its faculty; the talent of its students; partnerships with business; impact on the state's economy; its ability to apply discoveries to global, national and regional problems; and its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

Examples:

- Maryland has 60 programs ranked in the top 25 nationally by U.S. News and World Report.
- The faculty includes a Nobelist, six Pulitzer Prize winners and nearly two dozen members of the national academies in their fields.
- The average GPA of entering students improved from 3.00 to 3.72 from 1990 to 2000, while the average SAT score rose from 1173 to 1244.
- In the past year, the university helped to attract Fujitsu Laboratories of America to open a research facility in College Park and helped to establish the Joint Global Change Research Institute, a research partnership between the university and the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory.
- In FY 2001, the university received more than $300 million in research grants and outreach funding.
- The university is adding spectacular new facilities such as the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, scheduled to open in 2002; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering; extensive renovations to the Adele Stamp Student Union; and new parking structures.

Under Dan Mote's leadership, Maryland today is truly the state's greatest asset.

Maryland Terrapins

Among The Nation's Best

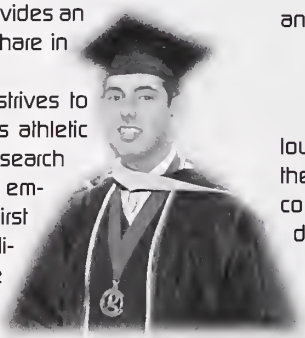
This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

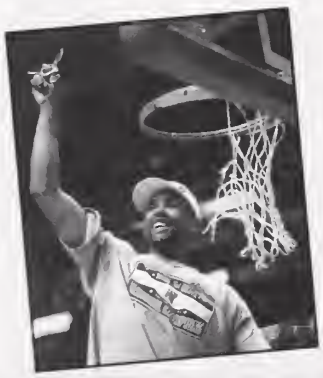
Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletics program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty and alumni to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.



The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.



Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletics department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletics director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model – with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletics programs. The Terrapins have won 16 national championships, including a record seven consecutive by the women's lacrosse team (pictured). The Terrapins had plenty of reasons to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 2000-01, another finish among the top 15 percent of all schools in the Sears Directors' Cup, which measures the overall athletic achievement in men's and women's sports.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletics department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the eighth year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also successfully concluded her presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and Canada.

Last year, Yow was named Female Sports Executive of the Year by the editors of Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal. In addition, she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Maryland athletics director Deborah A. Yow was recently awarded the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award by the United States Sports Academy.

As a former member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presented a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all seven of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $33 million annually and the sizable prior debts have been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided to student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of nearly 90 percent during her tenure.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 140 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 275 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 25 teams.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past seven years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles. She was recently singled out by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

Academic Support and Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Andrea Poag
Men's Soccer
Counselor

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for longtime Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in Cole Field House. It features a study center that includes 24 desktop computers, private study cubicles, a tutoring center, classrooms, and individual offices for five professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator, a career counselor and two graduate assistants. In addition, the center's extended site is located in the Gossett Football Team House, and includes office space for three professional counselors and a 16-station desktop computer center.

Maryland Gameplan

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses across the country. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

Career & Internship Fair

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search, and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Student-Athlete Career & Internship Fair, in which student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career & Internship Fair recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

Terp Choices

Personal growth is fundamental to all ASCDU programs and services. Terp Choices is a program that provides student-athletes the opportunity to identify their fundamental values, develop communication skills, and enhance decision making skills that will enable them to manage their personal health and well-being. Interactive presentations are given by trained student-educators who intend to illustrate to athletic team participants that an individual's choice may affect an entire team. This campus-wide program is partially funded by grants from the NCAA and ACC.

Student-Athlete Advisory Council

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of a representative from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area, and nationally.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success Program (C.H.A.M.P.S.) and the NCAA LIFE SKILLS Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically, and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Academic Support For Returning Athletes Program

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to returning its former athletes for degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student is provided with a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.

Strength & Conditioning

In the highly competitive collegiate soccer world the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Maryland's director of strength and conditioning and Barry Kagan, who works with the men's soccer team, believe strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more than just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these areas, with special attention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terps are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the nation. Conveniently located in the Gossett Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.
